September 2025 Prayer Letter

Dear Prayer Warriors,

During the month of September, we are thankful for additional opportunities in ministry, and we are also thankful that we had opportunities to learn some things that are still new to us. I was needed to lead singing in a couple of services, and I am grateful I had an opportunity to practice that important skill. We were able to help with the decorating for the Mexican Independence Day celebrations. For that night, Brittany was able to make arroz con leche (a milk and rice dessert) that I was unable to try because it was all gone before I got to it - apparently quite the hit! Even though we have been in Mexico for nearly two years, we still feel we have so much to learn and are grateful to continue learning new things.

During this month's soul winning efforts, although we did not see anyone saved, we were able to present the Gospel to some intrigued listeners. Guadalupe has been patient in allowing me to visit her a couple of times. She has heard a complete presentation of the plan of salvation, and although she has not yet accepted Christ, she seems to be growing increasingly open to forsaking a works-based salvation for Christ. Another lady named Verónica was also patient in listening to the Gospel presented, although she also is not yet sure that she wants to make the decision to trust Christ alone for salvation. Please join me in praying that the Holy Spirit would continue to work on their hearts and that they would trust Christ as Savior soon.

I would also like to ask your prayers for Renata's upcoming residency renewal. Due to her young age, she was not able to apply for a 3-year renewal of residency with the rest of us. Last year, she was only able to get a year of residency, as is again the case this year. We do praise the Lord that we already have an appointment scheduled. From what I have heard, the appointments are all gone within 20 to 40 seconds of when they are released at midnight, so having an appointment already is a tremendous blessing. Please join us in praying that everything will go smoothly with that renewal appointment. We are grateful for all the ways we have seen the Lord work through your prayers!

In Christ's service,
